Water SAVING TIPS

Fix the leaks:

All water leakages or burst water pipes in the RBN properties or infrastructure to be reported to the RBA Call Centre on: 0800 562 020 or callcentre@bafokeng.com

Don't Let It Run:

Always turn off the tap when you wash the dishes or brush your teeth!

Irrigate Wisely:

Watch the weather and irrigate only during the cooler parts of the day (early morning or late evening).

Check the Plumbing:

Always make sure that your plumbing is properly maintained.

KIMBERLEY PILGRIMAGE

This year marked the 35th year since the first trip to Kimberley was initiated by Mmemogolo Semane Molotlegi and the Bafokeng Women's Club.

It was also the 10th year anniversary since the epitaph was installed in commemoration of the Bafokeng regiments who went to work in the Kimberley diamond mines to raise money to purchase the RBN land. This was indeed a befitting year to commemorate this heroic selfless legacy of our forefathers.

The Pilgrimage is one of the most important and highly anticipated event in our Bafokeng calendar and takes place once every three years. Morafe's participation grows with every trip. This year, the trip was taken on 17 August, with over 400 people taking part; growing from the 90-strong participants in the first inaugural pilgrimage in 1983.

The momentous day started very early on Saturday 17 August when 7 buses en route to Northern Cape left Phokeng. With ululations and elated spirits, Bafokeng men and women came in numbers, dressed in their navy-blue with white polka dots, Kgakana inspired attires. They arrived at Kimberley just after 11 am, after travelling for over 500 kilometres. What an opportunity to reflect as a Nation!

The program at the Big Hole Museum started at around 12 noon, under a favourable weather. The MEC of Health from Northern Cape, Galerekwe Mase Manopole and the Mayor of the Sol Plaatjie Municipality, Patrick Mabilo graced the ceremony and gave encouraging words; appreciating the commemoration that Bafokeng are committed to.

While giving her word of encouragement, Mmemogolo thanked Morafe who responded to the call and took part in the Pilgrimage. She together with Princess Motswana and Mmakgosana, representing Bo Mmadikgosana laid wreaths. Such an emotional and spiritual event it was! Morafe then got an opportunity to briefly walk about the museum to view the displays and the Big Hole; of course not missing opportunities for selfies!

A scrumptious lunch was organized just across the street from the Big Hole Museum, at the Mita Sphersphere International Convention Centre. Morafe feasted while being entertained by Dikakapa brass band led Progress Mmatau from Mogajane in the North East Region.

COMMEMORATION CONTINUES

“Guarding the Legacy that Our Forefathers Sacrificed so Much for, Which Is Our Land.”

The evening program was not short of inspiration and entertainment. Mesora day spa spoiled the lucky ones with massages; while Bokao traditional dance group and Dikakapa brass band offered great entertainment.

Dr Garth Benneyworth from Sol Plaatje University gave a word of support. He emphasized the importance of retelling our stories that were marginalised by the apartheid systems using museums and academia to teach.

Kgosana Modisaotsile Mokate took us back to the year 9 BC where we first trace the Bafokeng lineage. The story-teller that he is, gave a moving account of the all the battles Bafokeng had to endure and jealously fight to what is rightfully theirs.

He emphasized the importance of “guarding the legacy that our forefathers sacrificed so much for, which is our land”.

He further encouraged Morafe to take these lessons to the entire Bafokeng community saying “we all communally watch very closely that we do not lose our treasured land”.

Mmemogolo graced the stage again when she stamped on the legacy of the land, potential loss that is looming if morafe fails to protect their land. She was out of words and greatly appreciated the support that Bafokeng continually show towards the Kimberley Pilgrimage.

She encouraged that Morafe embraces and wear their Kgakana attires with pride to all Morafe events.

In the evening, Morafe was once again treated like royalty to mouth-watering dinner and celebrated with Mmemogolo her 76th birthday.

Over 50 people went back home with gifts that included Royal Marang dinner vouchers, Mesora and Dewdrops spa vouchers, People of the Dew and Mining the Future books; with one couple – Mr and Mrs Naledi who won the Best Dance competition winning a night's stay at Kedar Lodge.

All this was made possible by our sponsors, namely: Rre Buti Mosime, Royal Marang Hotel, Kedar Lodge, Mesora day spa and Dewdrops day spa.

Morafe left Kimberley with inspiration, memories and anticipation for the next trip that is said to take place in 2022.

Every Mofokeng is in fact encouraged to take part in this Pilgrimage once in their lifetime! It is life-changing.

PHOKA

Phoka, derived from Bafokeng meaning "People of the dew" is a curio shop created to showcase the Bafokeng culture and heritage to the locals as well as visitors to the Bafokeng Nation. All arts and crafts showcased at Phoka are created by local Bafokeng artists as they truly understand their history and culture. Royal Bafokeng Enterprise Development saw the need to further develop and make known the beautiful culture of the Bafokeng people.

Phoka is situated at the luxurious Royal Marang Hotel, which is placed away in the heart of the Bafokeng Nation, on the way to Sun City.

DEPUTY MINISTER SPEAKS TO WOMEN IN MINING

The Deputy Minister of Department of Mineral Resources and Energy, Bavelile Hlongwa, hosted a round table discussion with women in the mining industry at the Royal Marang Hotel, just few weeks before she died in a car crash on Friday, 13 September.

Local women in mining were fortunate to have met and enjoyed engaging with her. While speaking to them, she said women are stronger when working together. She added that, "Transforming the sector calls for women to continue challenging the bottlenecks experienced in the quest for economic liberation".

The Deputy Minister quoted from the 1954 women's charter when she encouraged women to fight against the laws that want to continue to discriminate against them. "As Africans we must stop behaving like slaves, we need to work together, to start being smart, the more we are together, the better", she said.

She concluded by encouraging women to apply for licenses in mining, especially small scale mining as it is not complicated.

"As Africans we must stop behaving like slaves, we need to work together"

RORISANG LESENYEGO

RECEIVES A BASKETBALL SCHOLARSHIP IN USA.

Rorisang Lesenyego is a tall young lady from Luka who recently accepted a two year full scholarship to play basketball at West Oaks Academy in Orlando, Florida USA.

Born in Luka, Rorisang began playing basketball at a young age. Over the years, she has played for Luka Primary and Molotlegi Secondary School.

In the last four seasons, she has been playing for Kitsong, where she is a Grade 11 learner and Head student. She received two Academic awards including a scholarship offer from Stellenbosch University.

She also led the U19 Team to a Jr.NBA Championship where she was voted the Most Valuable player.

Rorisang has many other accolades to her name. In 2017 she was part of the team that won the Jr.NBA Africa Festival.

In 2018 she attended the NBA Academy Women's Program in Senegal and took part in Basketball Without Borders Africa Camp.

She represented South Africa in the U16 Regional Championships in Botswana where she was named Captain of the team and led them to second position after losing to Angola in the Finals.

The Royal Bafokeng Sports through its Jr.NBA program and Kitsong are proud of Rorisang's achievements. Her dedication and perseverance over the years to the program has finally paid off.

Both the school and RBS wish her well in USA.

LEBONE II COLLEGE'S YOUNG MANDELAS'

Two Lebone II – College of the Royal Bafokeng Alumni have been featured in the 2019 News24 100 Young Mandelas of the Future list, flying the flag high for the school.

Sewagodimo Matlapeng, Class of 2013, and Thapelo Nthite, Class of 2014, were chosen from hundreds of nominations, to join the list of 100 outstanding young people who are intent on leaving the world a better place than they found it News24 launched the 100 Young Mandelas list in 2018, to coincide with the centenary of Mandela's birth.

According to Adriaan Basson, News24's editor-in-chief, these 100 young people, chosen from hundreds more nominations, remind South Africans that the characteristics which former president Nelson Mandela embodied – compassion, creativity, leadership, vision and resilience – are still thriving today.

Their readers nominated inspiring South Africans from all walks of life, all 35 years and younger.

Then, from a shortlist, News24 journalists chose the top 100 inspiring young people, categorising them under one of the five "Mandela characteristics".

"These are just some of this year's stories and they are the reason why we dare not lose hope in South Africa," wrote Basson. "They should inspire us to be brave and courageous as we take the road ahead." Thapelo Nthite describes himself as someone who has a deep passion for social justice and figuring out ways in which technology can be used to reduce inequalities on the continent.

He is currently completing his degree in mechatronics engineering at the University of Cape Town.

He is the co-founder of Bothale-AI Solutions, a company which aims to produce software that uses artificial intelligence and machine learning to better the lives of South Africans, for which the company has won a number of competitions and awards.

Some of the innovations Nthite has worked on include a machine-learning system for security cameras called Liso and an online chat-bot system called Naledi which uses indigenous South African languages in both text and speech, to improve access to online services for non-English-speaking South Africans.

Sewagodimo Matlapeng's interest in computer science started when she was still in high school when she opted to take up IT as a subject even though she knew nothing about computers.

After getting the feel of the subject, she began teaching underprivileged children in the community of Phokeng how to code as well.

"They should inspire us to be brave and courageous as we take the road ahead."

Sewagodimo Matlapeng

When she moved to the University of Cape Town to study a BSc Honours in computer science, she simultaneously ran community projects focused on teaching coding to young people, particularly young, black women and girls.

She also created an educational app called Buza Answers, to help students from disadvantaged backgrounds to access assistance and resources that aren't immediately available to them.

Sewagodimo is passionate about using technology and programming to solve problems faced by South Africans and is also a women's rights activist, focusing much of her community work on women and girls.

She founded the groups Indoni Space and Women@DevC as a result; Indoni is a mentor-mentee group for black women developers in South Africa and includes more than 40 women from Cape Town, Johannesburg, Pretoria and Durban.

Women@DevC is an inclusivity group for women developers who are tech community leaders in 15 sub-Saharan countries.

Lebone II College celebrates Sewagodimo and Thapelo for their recognition in this prestigious list and the way in which they are continuing to 'shine their light' towards a great South Africa.

It is the school's belief that every young person should learn from the legacy of Mandela and can help to change the image of South Africa and the rest of the African continent.

Lebone II is intent on developing young and passionate change-makers who can lead well, be intentional, be bold, be innovative and, most importantly, contribute positively to our society.

PLATINUM WINNERS AT THE PLATINUM EISTEDDFOD

Lebone II College music students shone at the Rustenburg Platinum Eisteddfod in August, where together they achieved 6 Platinum awards, 43 'A+' awards and 15 'A' awards from 70 overall entries.

Lemuel Sampson attained two Platinum awards for his Saxophone pieces and Tshepang Motitswe achieved a Platinum Award for his Drums performance.

Letlotlo Mogano, Christopher Lindsay and Leago Bogatsu received a Platinum Award for the recital by their Piano trio, and the Senior Marimba Band and Junior Choir excelled, each winning a Platinum Award for their performances.

The 58 further 'A+' and 'A' awards were received for wonderful and varied performances by our students in piano, saxophone, flute, choir, violin, guitar and drumming. They have certainly made us proud!

Music is an integral part of school-life at Lebone II College. The music department is situated in the heart of the school to ensure that music is heard everywhere throughout the day and music teachers offer tuition in a wide variety of instruments.
